DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-13 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).
4. Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Goux et al. USPN 5567320 in view of Storey et al. USPN 4202760.

Goux describes a blood treatment device comprising a blood purification element divided into two chambers by a semipermeable membrane 4 whose first chamber 3 is part of a dialysis fluid loop and whose second chamber 2 is part of an extracorporeal blood loop (Figure 1). The device has a fluid supply line 6 for supplying fresh dialysis fluid to the first chamber and a dialysis fluid removal line 8 for removing used dialysis fluid from the first chamber. The device has a control unit 26 and an analysis unit 22. The analysis unit comprises sensors (col. 5, lines 14-17) for measuring a concentration of a first material capable of penetrating the semipermeable membrane. The analysis unit 22 is capable of determining the blood purification performance (col. 5, lines 14-59).

Goux discloses the first material is sodium (col. 5, lines 18-28). Goux does not disclose the device differentiates between two materials namely sodium and one of potassium, glucose, creatinine, calcium, or phosphate. Storey discloses removal of these substances in an apparatus and method for preparation of a hemodialysis solution (col. 5, lines 1-62). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to provide the invention of Goux with the ability to monitor the blood purification of claimed materials for the benefit of returning to the patient blood with a normal concentration of the materials, which Storey teaches is desired (Storey col. 1, lines 45-50). Goux/Storey disclose the sensor is a downstream sensor and upstream sensor (col. 5, lines 65-67; col. 6, lines 19-31). The device further comprises a dialysis fluid preparation unit 7.

The limitations directed to the operation and measurements of the device are directed to an intended use of the article. Intended use must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. See In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963). If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim limitations.

Conclusion

2. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
